

SHANNON STOTT

Using techniques from the creative art of improv theater, I deliver business results through facilitation and development of programs and projects.

I use my experience creating training programs to serve as an internal consultant and develop course content to build innovative learning experiences.

I offer over twelve years experience creating activity-based, learning solutions and delivering transformational experiences that build and strengthen relationships with internal cultures, stakeholders, clients and outside communities.